VIETNAM AND THE AIRPORT INDUSTRY

Vietnam's airport infrastructure sector plays a crucial role in the country's economic growth and development. Since lifting COVID-19 travel restrictions, Vietnam's domestic aviation sector has become the world's fifth fastest-growing aviation market, projected to serve 150 million air transport passengers by 2035.

This increased airport traffic has put pressure on management and safety, often causing delays at key airport hubs. In response, Vietnam is investing heavily in airport infrastructure, and the government is proposing a plan of regional decentralization of investment, aiming to maximize public-private partnerships. These measures will reduce pressure on the state budget and increase the competitiveness of Vietnam's economy, enabling the country to leverage the best technologies and services in airport development projects.
